

Seminar Series
Sustainability in the Workplace

No. 4

Fostering a Culture of Change

Date Thursday July 5th Time 9am – 4.30pm Venue Room F102, School of Resources, Environment and Society (Building 48), Linnaeus Way, Australian National University Cost $60 (includes lunch)

This will be an inspiring day with a focus on changing behaviour and fostering sustainability. The program will include a series of presentations and a panel discussion with a number of individuals who have a broad range of experience in driving sustainability-related change. This will be complemented by a practical workshop component, to draw out general approaches to fostering change and apply them to real situations in your workplace.

Come along to gain valuable insight into how to more effectively promote change in your workplace.

Speakers include

Maryke Booth

Director
Shop Basics and Earth Basics

Jennifer McMillin

Education for Sustainability Research Fellow
ANU Integrating Sustainability Project

David Carpenter

Manager
ANU Environmental Management Program

Tom Snow

Executive Director
Canberra International Airport

Gerry Gillespie

President
Zero Waste Australia

Workshops by

Lyn Goldsworthy

Consultant training and coaching
Mittagong Forum

Millie Rooney

Environment Officer
ANU Environmental Management Program

To register or for more information, ring: 02 6248 0885 or email: sam@ecoaction.com.au.

Sustainability in the Workplace

This series of seminars is designed to give environmental coordinators in offices the knowledge and tools to foster sustainability in the workplace. Through a combination of expert advice from industry practitioners and workshopping specific problems, the aim of the series is to enable offices and workplaces to all achieve best-practice outcomes in environmental management and to make sustainability everyone's business.

Canberra
Environment
& Sustainability
Resource Centre

ActewAGL

ENVIRONMENT
INSTITUTE OF
AUSTRALIA AND
NEW ZEALAND